Blasting a charge is pep band leader Tom Rearick. Senior Tom was named Citizen of the Month for his efforts to promote school spirit.

"Hold still!" urges make-up girl Paula Wilson as she carefully removes make-up from fidgety Boys' Chorus Line member Ron Longacre.

Happiness radiates from football Homecoming queen Carol Bowman as she receives congratulations from varsity cheerleaders Paula Freville and Gayle Bolinger.

Careful to measure exact parts, Kim Fessler pours acid for an experiment in chemistry class.

Feasting ancient-Roman style are Senior Latin Club members Rhonda Isakson, Kathy Mattix, Ralph Winslow, Paul Dubenetsky.

Anxious for a victory, an honor report card, a successful club project; todays generation puts forth all efforts to bring about success. Youth is triumphant.

Students Strive to Excell in All Activities

"The stamen bears the powdery pollen," explains Claude Murphy as he outlines asexual reproduction in flowering plants. Looking on are fellow biology students Bev Bolinger, Margaret Scott and Dave Galler.

Concerned over the death of former President Dwight Eisenhower, students like Janet Kasonovich read of the sorrowing incident.

Youth are anxious for success, but often disillusioned. They object to government policies, yet, take great pride in their country In future years they will make many important decisions. Will they have the proper background to base their decisions on? Will they know the right answers? Or fail? And. What if they fail? Youth is strong.

Today's Youth

Beginning speech students participate in a panel discussion on current events.

Principal Harold Moody recounts a moving address on patriotism.

Are Restless to Accept Challenges of Tomorrow

Nancy Holt is crowned Hobart's first Junior Miss by the president of Jayshees.

Concentration is a bond to learning for sophomore Tess Patterson as she listens intently to her teacher's lecture on campus riots.

Hopes of victory and fears of loss possess the mind of Frank Thompson, wrestling squad captain.

The restlessness of today's youth is revealed at HHS. Students search for an exclusive identity, but find many of their goals common. Their personalities are effected by their everyday life, even though it often appears simple. The habits and views they develop today form the promise of tomorrow. Let them express their restlessness.

HHS Students Are Effected by Their Everyday Activities

While strolling around the newly constructed administration building along Lake George, Jim Finan and Dawne Neibert stop to chat awhile.

Serving a dual purpose at HHS, the concession stand provides a source of funds for clubs and a variety of "goodies" for snacking students.

"Oh, I get it now!" chuckles Cindy Willmoth in delayed reaction to the punchline of a joke.

Hearty Lawrence Hellman satisfies his noon-time appetite as he chows in the school cafeteria.

Restless to learn through a variety of experiences, students took part in many activities. They were restless for: the curtain to rise, the band to generate, the convention results to be announced, the queen to be crowned, the diplomas to be issued . . . Restless in

Spirits Ignite

Homecoming festivities got off to a roaring start as the Brickies hurled the pumpkin-headed dummy into the Halloween night bonfire.

As the classes vied for float honors, the juniors took control with their winning "Send 'Em To Valhalla."

Senior Carol Bowman was crowned Homecoming queen during the halftime activities and reigned over her court throughout the evening.

After a sad defeat fans were consoled as the Churchill Administration played to a full house at the after-game dance.

After two weeks of hard work, juniors display their masterpiece, "Send 'Em To Valhalla," which received first place honors at the Homecoming game.

Laughter Rings Loud at 1969 Yohannaire

"Will everyone here, kindly stand up and cheer," sing cast members Billy May, Connie Colburn, and Janet Kasonovich in the finale of the talent show.

Donning a cane and top hat is Senior Carol Bowman in her duet, "Froggy Went a Courtin," which was performed in the Yohannaire.

As the lights went out, a mysterious mist enveloped the audience as they waited for the "Spirit of '69" to begin. The annual talent show sponsored by the Student Council was held March 13-15.

Keith Addison and Joe Conn acted as M. C.'s in the "Rowan and Martin" tradition as they guided the audience through the Yohannaire.

The talent show featured everything from kids and clowns to Martians and frogs.

Members of the Madrigals sang "Love Is Blue," while Terry Bynum, Terry Abner, Dan Bradfield and John Sullivan composed a barbershop quartet singing "Let Me Call You Sweetheart."

Members of the girls' chorus line performed the Charleston, while Audrey Cooper, Jayme Allendorf, and Sue Stephens did a tap dance.

Janet Kasonovich, Mary Siddall and Mary Jarosz were the students in charge of directing the "Spirit of '69." The choreography for the dance numbers was done by Audrey Cooper.

Proceeds from the Yohannaire went toward a $600 Student Council Scholarship and toward the American Field Service Fund.

Acting as M.C. Joe Conn jokes with the audience between numbers.

Making a victory statement after being announced the winner of the "cutest legs" contest at the basketball homecoming pep session is Senior Mike McLennan.

Many students display their school spirit decorating the main lobby for the basketball homecoming dance. Music for the dance, which immediately followed the game against Valparaiso, was provided by the Haints.

Bono, McLennan Preside

Over Homecoming Festivities

The sky was the limit for school and class spirit as the Brickies rallied round their team for the basketball homecoming game played against Valparaiso.

On the eve of the game juniors and sophomores draped the lobby and corridors with posters bearing victory calls and class slogans. On game day the Seniors decked themselves in class colors and added their own contributions to the hall-

Hobart Spirit reached its peak at the last hour pep session on Senior Spirit Day. During the session the winner of the cutest legs contest held between the baskethall players was announced. Voted player with the "loveliest" legs was Senior Mike McLennan.

Paula Freeville crowned the '69 basketball Homecoming queen Tina Bono to reign over the game's festivities. Members of the queen's court were Ellen Pope, Senior, escorted by Giampi Gallarante, and Sandy Longacre, sophomore, escorted by Don Erickson. The Senior candidate's escort was Hobart's AFS student from Italy.

Tina appeared with her court and escort Harry Kneifel at the aftergame dance held in the gym. The entertainment was provided by the Haints from 10 to 11 p.m.

Pep Sessions, Convocations Spark Interests

"At this time, Seniors are dismissed," echoed from the P. A. system. Following this announcement, students flocked to the gym to attend the various pep sessions and convocations.

Students cheered on the sports teams as they followed the cheerleaders in familiar chants.

In keeping with the holiday spirits, special convocations, were held at Thanksgiving, Christmas and Easter. At the various religious convos, ministers from local churches came to talk to the students.

Members of the Ball State University Wind Ensemble visited Hobart High while on tour.

During Patrioticism Week, a special convocation was held at which Principal Mr. Moody spoke on Americanism and the threat of communism.

To conclude the year, the annual Honor Convocation was held to honor worthy students.

Two Plays Presented to Public

Under the direction of Mr. Ralph, the dramatics class put on two plays, "The Many Loves of Dobie Gillis" and "The Marriage Machine."

A Capella and Mixed Chorus members combined efforts in the making of a combination play and concert.

Band members celebrated their 44th anniversary by holding a special concert in the spring.

Sockhops and Semi-formal School Dances Successful

The Syrup "poured" forth sweet music for the "Babes in Toyland" who attended the annual semiformal turnabout. The Debuteens, who sponsored it, provided the decorations and refreshments.

Hobart couples switched from their elegant attire to much more informal wear for the "Hobo Hullabaloo," the spring turnabout. Couples wore pants, cutoffs, souled sweatshirts, and even exposed holey socks when they removed their shoes to dance to the Gadget. After the mock wedding performed by Jerry Talian and Barry Reed, the cutest hobo couple was selected. Dave Galler and Kathy Hill received the honor.

A sockhop promoted by the Student Council and a dance after the "Mini-500" served as other weekend diversions for students. Six post-game dances occupied the time between games and curfew.

Seniors Replace Teachers, City Officials

Senior Ellen Pope, who took the place of mayor, and Kathy Smith, who acted as clerk, listen intently to city clerk Oolah Evans and Mayor Lilburn Titus on Government Day.

Seniors invaded the positions of teachers and city government officials as they took over on Government Day, April 16, and Education Day, April 29.

Among the Government Day positions were those of mayor, clerk-treasurer, firemen, policemen, city attorney, city engineer, city judge and councilmen. Seniors Ellen Pope and Kathy Smith acted as mayor and clerk-treasurer respectively.

Students were taken on a tour of the City Hall, the Hobart Public Library, the sewage plant and both fire departments.

On Education Day, almost 200 students took over teaching positions. On April 28, students observed teaching techniques before they took over the next day.

Students were situated at the elementary schools and the junior high as well as the high school.

Extra-Curricular Activities

Different for Foreign Student

Giovanni Piero Gallarate, American Field Service student from Italy, has been quite impressed with Hobart and the American way of life.

One of the many differences he discerned between American and Italian schools was the absence of almost all school activities in Italy except the newspaper. The Italian commented, "Here, students have much more opportunity to participate in affairs of school with clubs and council meetings."

Giovanni, nicknamed Giampi, was active in skiing and track events in Italy. His main hobby was collecting and selling antiques. Since the AFS student arrived in America, he has become interested in photography and in collecting U.S. patches.

Coming from a family of nine, Giampi is the oldest of seven children, four boys and three girls. His father supervises school construction for the local government in Torino. Mrs. Gallarate owns her own shop and is a hair stylist.

During his stay in the states, Giampi lived in the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Dettweiler. Their son Tom, a junior at Hobart, helped Giampi become adjusted to his new surroundings.

Giampi will enter the University of Torino after his senior year at Hobart High School. He plans to study space aerodynamics.

Foreign exchange student Giampi receives the Key to the City from Miss Dorothy Thompson at an AFS meeting.

While in America, foreign exchange student Giovanni Gallarate stayed in the Thomas Dettweiler home. Standing with Giampi are members of the family Mr. and Mrs. Dettweiler and son Tom, who is a junior at the high school.

Gold Ticket Victorious for Mayor-Clerk

Campaigns, slogans, floats and whitewash highlighted the annual Mayor-Clerk election.

Next year's Mayor and Clerk of the Student Council will be Randy Lacey and Marion Meilaender. As Mayor, Randy's job will be to preside over all Student Council meetings. Marion's duties as clerk will be taking and writing the minutes of all council meetings.

Candidates for Mayor and Clerk were selected at a special convention. Randy Lacey and Chuck Enslen emerged Mayor champs while Marion Meilaender and Pam Bliss were chosen Clerk opponents.

Leading the Mayor-Clerk parade is Hobart's ROTC marching unit. Juniors Bob Simmons Kevin Fenwick, Senior Charlie Whelan and John Mochan head the line of marchers.

At the Oak Ridge Roller Rink, couples danced to the music of Bob Wilson's Band.

Senior Mike Schammert and Junior Beth Scott were crowned King and Oueen.

At San Remo's Restaurant, entertainment was provided by WCFL's Dick Biandi.

At 3:30 a.m. the post-prom party came to an end. After returning home for a few hours' sleep, couples headed for the Dunes.

Annual Honor Convocation Shifted From Day to Evening

Wednesday night, May 14 was the setting for this year's honor convocation.

Richard Ballard was named valedictorian and John Aughey was named salutatorian of the Class of 69 by Principal Harold Moody.

Bob Kemp and Ellen Pope received activities awards from Viceprincipal Miss Thompson. Mr. Cope awarded the Danforth Award to Janet Kasonovich and David Sutherland. Carol Kubacke was the recipient of the Daughters of the American Revolution Award and the Harlie Garver Award.

Scholarships were awarded to Fred Guenther by Student Council, Bob McOmber by Tri Kappa, Ralph Winslow by Phi Beta Phi, Bill Schmelter by Rotary Club, Pam Greasor by Future Teachers of America, and Debbie Gibson by Jaycees.

Language scholarships were given to Kathy Mundell and Marilyn Ledyard, Linda Scharbach and Kathy Mundell, Janet Flood, and Frank Cefali.

Academics Awards were received by Carol Kopko for home economics, David Sutherland for social studies, Fred Neier for industrial art and Rhonda Isakson for best speaker.

"Pomp and Circumstances" Serenades 391 Graduates

"Pomp and Circumstances" serenaded the 391 purple and gold tassled Seniors at Baccalaureate and Commencement exercises, May 18 and 21.

Urging the Seniors to experience life, Reverend Allan Byrne spoke to the class at Baccalaureate.

Valedictorian Richard Ballard spoke on the advances made in science, while Salutatorian John Aughey talked about the campus riots.

Dr. Lee Martin was the guest speaker at the Commencement program. His topic was "A New Chance at Life."

Following Dr. Martin's address, the perspective graduates received their diplomas and red carnations, the class flower.

A variety of organizations at HHS provided an opportunity to belong, establish friendships and experience accomplishment. Student council sponsored School Partnership and earned $1,000 for a school in a needy country while Debs held their annual can and bundle drives. Many clubs, many projects and many ambitious club members existed as HHS students were . . . restless in

Memories Again Wins All-American

"Memories" scooped up its second triple crown award in two years while in nation-wide yearbook competition.

An All-American rating by the National School Press Association, a Medalist award from the Columbia Schoolarship Press Association and an "A plus" by the National School Yearbook Association made up the triple crown awards.

Ho-Hi Life Awarded All-American Rating

For the first time in the history of the school, the Ho-Hi Life was awarded an All-American rating. Under the direction of last year's editor Sally Shirey, Hobart's last semester paper of the year 1967-68 won the highest award possible for school newspaper.

In order to improve the appearance of the paper's headlines, a new headline machine was purchased this year.

Staffers tried to improve the quality of their paper by making it more informative. Surveys were sent to many neighboring schools asking them about their problems and school policies.

The Ho-Hi Life was entirely a student publication and was issued bi-weekly. Staffers set type on Justowriters and pasted-up pages, as well as composing headlines and writing stories.

This year the Ho-Hi Life had a co-editorship consisting of Seniors Maryanne Esping and Nancy Holt.

Honor Society Shows "A Raisin in the Sun"

"A Raisin in the Sun," based on the book by Lorraine Hansberry, was presented to the student body January 24. The movie, starring Sidney Poitier, showed the problems of a Negro family in the slums and how they overcame their hardships.

After evaluating report cards, the Honor Society sent letters of recognition to worthy students commending them for their fine work.

Outstanding juniors were inducted into the Honor Society at a special program held May 4. Students were chosen on the basis of scholarship, leadership, character and service, in addition to ratings made by their teachers.

A total of 27 students were elected into the Honor Society. Guest speaker for the program was Mrs. Robert Shone, a former member of the National Honor Society.

In addition to honoring distinguished students, members of the Honor Society chose the most outstanding sophomore boy and girl and presented them with an award at the Honors Day Convocation.

Student Council Collects $1000 for Peace Corp Use

After three years the School Partnership Committee fulfilled its goal by sending $1000 to the Peace Corps to be used in a needy country. A bake sale, a Slack and Jersey Day, two "Cutest Legs" contests and the "Mini-500" were the main fundraising projects. A Halloween Insurance plan and the Viking Dummy Contest were also used.

Lake County Convalescence Home, Bethany Children's Home, Jane Bryant Rest Home, and the St. Anthony's Rest Home were the recipients of the Citizenship Committee's Service Projects. A fourth of the Student Council visited each home and entertained the occupants. The committee also sent newsletters to the servicemen in Viet Nam and sponsored the patriotism convocation.

The School Improvement Committee instituted identification cards for sophomores and juniors, rules for the football concession stand, and introduced membership cards for Council members.

Signs and posters for Council projects were taken care of by the Publicity Committee.

An Inter-School Council was organized by the Evaluation Committee between Hobart, River Forest, Merrillville, Crown Point, and Valparaiso. The purpose of this council was to exchange ideas for Student Council improvement.

German Club Enters Valpo Match

Several members of the German Club competed in a language contest which was held at Valparaiso University. The students were split into two classes: regular, those with only classroom experience, and special, those who speak German in the home.

The German Club participated in a Language Club Party in March sponsored by the American Field Service for all the area foreign exchange students. All the language clubs from Hobart participated. Fifteen exchange students, including Giampi Gallarate, Hobart's exchange student, attended the party.

The guests watched skits put on by the various clubs and later danced to music provided by the Vegetable Reconstruction.

Members Visit Chicago Museum, Restaurant

In order to further the students' knowledge, of France, the French Club went on its annual field trip to Chicago. Members ate at the La Tour Restaurant and visited the Chicago Art Museum to see paintings done by famous French artists.

In addition to going on their field trip, French Clubbers helped the American Field Service plan its party for a group of foreign exchange students. Talented French members put on a skit to help provide entertainment for foreigners.

Any member who had had at least one year of French and was interested in learning more about French culture was eligible to belong to the French Club.

A $100 Scholarship was presented to Senior Kathy Mundell at the Honors Day Convocation.

AFS Clubbers Sponsor Game for All-Stars

AFS members hosted a basketball game featuring the Faculty All-Stars versus the Harlem Satellites. The Satellites, playing under the direction of Rookie Brown, a former member of the Harlem Globertotters provided an expert, yet comical game for the students and teachers alike.

Giovanni Gallarate (Giampi) was Hobart's sixth foreign exchange student sponsored by the AFS. A special party was held to welcome Giampi to Hobart High School.

The AFS also sponsored a farewell party in December for Rotary Club's foreign exchange student Liz Morris from Australia.

Liz Morris and Giampi Gallarate told AFS members about life in their countries of Australia and Italy.

FBLA Sells Valentine Candy, Attends State Convention

Turtles for your sweetheart were provided by Future Business Leaders of America during Valentines Day week. The FBLA club sold the De Mets candy in order to raise money for the Gerald Shepherd Scholarship Fund. A $200 profit resulted from the candy drive.

The recipient of the scholarship was Kathy Scharbach.

The Hobart FBLA club attended a state-wide convention at Ball State University during the last weekend of March. Approximately 25 members made the trip by bus. They listende to campaign speeches made by candidates running for state offices, discussed ways in which to better FBLA and viewed business exhibitions.

Hobart entered a wooden model of a computer into the competition at BSU. Newly elected officers and the winner of the exhibition contest were announced at a luncheon which ended the convention.

The FBLA organization sponsored the snack bar for a week and also worked in it for one basketball game. The money they earned was used toward their trip to Ball State.

Twenty-five members were counted in the club this year. Nine-teen of the 25 were accepted at the September Initiation. Each officer gave a speech on the Future Business Leaders of America before the new members recited their pledge.

Sponsor for the club during this year was Mrs. Pflughoeft.

In order to check the money received from selling candy Madeline Sothman watches Cindy Dickey write receipts.

FTA Clubbers Attend Convention

Six members of the Hobart Chapter of the Future Teachers of America attended the FTA convention at River Forest High School. The delegates listened to lectures on elementary and computerized teaching, listened to campaign speeches and voted for delegates to the state convention, and elected Mr. and Mrs. Future Teacher of America.

An approved rating must be obtained from at least three teachers in order for a student to enter FTA. After being admitted, any member may be a cadet teacher. Thirty-two members taught at the Senior and Junior High and at several grade schools.

The money making projects for this year included selling coffee and doughnuts at the Little Five Track Meet, a football concession stand, and selling mums at Homecoming.

Receiving the $325 FTA Scholarship for the 1968-69 school year was Pam Greasor.

Carrying out her role as a cadet teacher, Senior Debbie Holtzman gains experience by grading test papers.

FNA Members Tour

Gary Hospital

Members of the Future Nurses of America toured the Gary Methodist Hospital. Head nurse Mrs. McCathrin conducted the tour for all the girls interested in becoming nurses. Following the tour, the girls heard speeches about becoming a candystriper.

In addition to visiting the hospital, FNA members saw "A Cap for Cathy" a movie about nursing.

Since there were no Senior members in the club this year, the annual nurse's scholarship could not be given; instead, the money was given to charity.

Officers for the 1968-69 year were President Bunny LePell, Vice-President Nancy Yarvice, Secretary Terri Rankin and Treasurer Alice Frankenhauser.

Art Club Wins Bulletin Board Contest

Now announcing the winners of the '69 Bulletin Board Contest . . . the Hobart High Art Clubbers.

The members of the Art club demonstrated their talent by designing the winning exhibition of the intra-school Bulletin Board Contest.

Yohan owes his new appearance to the diligent repair work of the art club members. They erased several cracks and chips and applied a new coat of paint to him.

Other constructive activities of the club included the restoration of a damaged painting in the lobby.

Art students, Dale Priest, Berylene Dixon and Ioel Pence, experiment in making their first film. The puppets were made by the art students.

In order to satisfy students' appetites as well as make extra money, members of the Home Economics Club had a bake sale in December. Goodies such as cookies, suckers, date balls, brownies and fudge were sold to students during their lunch hour.

Members again sold cookbooks to girls desiring recipes for that special meal. Books on salads, meats, casseroles, vegetables, desserts, and foreign foods could be purchased from any home economic member for the price of only one dollar apiece.

At the annual banquet in February members prepared a special meal for the various guests.

Home Economics officers for the 1968-69 year were President Nancy Marben, Vice-President Mary Beth Sapper, Secretary Noel Moffett, Treasurer Debbie Collins and Historian Janet Flood.

Parents and members of the Home Economics Club enjoy a special meal at the annual banquet held in February. The meal for the celebration was prepared by home economics students and was under the direction of Mrs. Beveridge.

Librarians Earn Awards For Activities

Any girl looking for a chance to have fun while she served the school at the same time found that chance if she joined Librarians.

To start off the year, Librarians had a Coke party to initiate new members.

In order to stimulate participation in the club, a point system was used. If a girl earned 50 points, she received a purple and gold felt letter.

Points could be earned by working in the library, making book-marks and putting up bulletin board displays. Awards were given at the farewell party to the Seniors.

H-men Form Homecoming Booster Block

H-men made their contribution to school spirit at the basketball Homecoming game. A booster block consisting entirely of lettermen led the cheers and shouts of the Brickies against Valparaiso.

Over 70 members of the club bore the Brickie H on their jackets this year. Letters may be earned in any sport sponsored by the school.

Dean Robb was president and Mr. Frank Kurth acted as advisor to the organization. The purpose of the club is to serve as a channel through which the athletes may obtain varsity letters and jackets. Also, the club establishes rules regulating the manner and style in which they are worn. The H-men organization is primarily an honor organization and sponsored no activities.

H-Men members formed the all male cheer block to help "Boost the Brickies" as the basketball team battled on the floor.

Ushers Club Consists of Fifteen Boys

Fifteen members composed the ushers club for the year of 1969. President David Annaert and his two junior officers, Vice-President Jim Arreola and Secretary Charles Whelan were the only three Senior boys in the club this year.

The ushers play an obscure but very important role in the school functions. The problem of effective and orderly seating arrangements has been solved with much effort on the part of the ushers this year.

Coach Kurth sponsored the club which promoted no money-making projects this year.

Enjoying the basketball game, the ushers show that their job isn't all work.

Audio-Visual Provides Unlimited Assistance

"Testing, 1, 2, 3."

"Now we're going to do . . ."

"I have a special announcement to make."

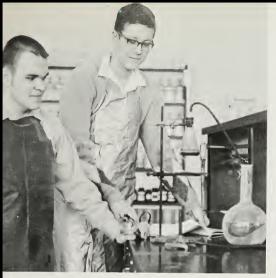

Threading machines, running projectors and fixing record players and tape recorders were just a few of the duties of the Audio Visual Club.

Without the help of the AV department, teachers wouldn't be able to give tests on the overhead projectors, the student body wouldn't be able to listen to records and watch movies and film strips, and no one would be able to hear the speakers at the many convocations given throughout the year.

Under the direction of Mr. Richard Beck, the AV club provided unlimited assistance in the running of projectors during the year. Whenever a teacher wanted to show a movie, all he had to do was call for the AV department.

Senior Bill McClaran presides at the Christmas convocation as he checks to make sure that all of the recording equipment is functioning properly.

At each meeting members were either delving into the depths of science or were learning new scientific methods.

All that was needed to become a member of the Science Club was an interest in science and the payment of club dues.

Speech Team Consistantly In Top Five

Under the direction of its new sponsor, Mrs. Peggy Howard, and through its members' individual efforts, Hobart's Speech and Debate team consistently placed in the top five at all of its invitational speech tournaments.

At the area conference, the Speech and Debate placed second, the highest placing yet for the Calumet Forensic League.

At the Indiana High School Forensic Association sectional meet, Hobart qualified eleven speakers for the regional tournament. As a team, Hobart didn't place at regionals, but two students, Polly Sporre and Rhonda Isakson, both competing in girls' extemporaneous speaking, qualified for the state finals. Rhonda was able to place second at the state finals.

Hobart's team was strengthened by the addition of a freshman unit.

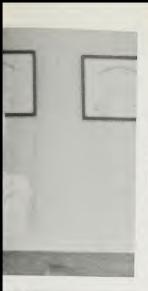

Among some of the outstanding speakers for the year were Rhonda Isakson, Polly Sporre, Pam Trager, Janet Anne Holzmer and Joanne Nordquist.

Teddy Bears, Tin Soldiers Highlight "Babes In Toyland"

Teddy bears, candy canes, lollipops and little tin soldiers came to life as the Debuteens sponsored the annual semi. The theme for this year's dance was "Babes in Toyland," and was one of the two chances girls had to ask their favorite guy out for the evening. Music for the dance was provided by The Syrup.

In keeping with the Christmas spirit, Debs sent Christmas packages to the boys in Viet Nam. The members baked cookies and collected Kool-Aid, toothbrushes, coffee cans, canned goods and other needed articals to pack.

Acting as the Easter bunny, in addition to Santa Claus, Debs sent packages to the Viet Nam boys again at Eastertime.

Guest speaker Mrs. Roberta Crandall talked to the girls about muscular dystrophy and interested several girls in collecting. Another service project of the Debs was a trip to a convalescent home. Members gathered old magazines to present to the Lake County Convalescent Home.

Working with Dee Dee Kleban, a Hobart child crippled with cerebral palsy, provided Debs with an opportunity to provide a useful service to someone less fortunate. Every Saturday and Sunday five members would visit the Whispering Pines Rest Home where they could exercise Dee Dee and help her gain muscle tone and coordination.

Carnations of all hues were sold by the Debs on Dress-Up Day. Proceeds from the sale went to the American Cancer Society.

At the end of the year, The Debs sponsored a spring banquet and elected new officers for the coming year.

A Capella, Mixed Chorus Present Musical

Music resounded throughout the air as members of the A Capella, Madrigals and Mixed Chorus performed during the year.

A Combination play and concert highlighted the year for mixed chorus and A Capella members. To start off the program, selections, such as "Love Is Blue" and "I Believe" were performed by the choirs. Following this, "The Lowland Sea," a one-act play by Thornton Wilder, was presented.

In addition to putting on concerts, members of the choirs sang at the Easter, Thanksgiving and Christmas convocations.

The Madrigals, a select group from the A Capella choir, performed at a number of clubs and sororities, as well as for the student body.

Walking down the corridors, the Madrigals carol away as they bring Christmas cheer to students and teachers alike.

Concert Band Selected to Play for Indiana

One of the biggest highlights of the 68-69 school year for the Hobart High School Band was the performance they made before the Indiana Music Educators Association at Fort Wayne, Indiana.

Complying with a formal invitation extended by the planning committee, the band entertained at the association's state convention.

Another major accomplishment of the Brickie Band was the acclamation its members received in the solo and ensemble contest at Butler University in Indianapolis.

Hobart had the largest number of contestants at the state contest. They first had to pass the preliminaries in the Fort Wayne district. Fifty-seven members attended the finals at Butler University and 28 received awards or special commendation.

New to the band this year was the 22 member, all-brass stage band which was directed by Mr. Matlock. At the fall band convocation they played such selections as "Tijuana Taxi" and "Pink Panther."

At the annual honor convocation Jim Deal received a full tuition band scholarship to Ball State.

The Georgian Murphy Award, which is presented for the greatest progress by a woodwind player, was presented to Sue Thompson. Brent Tarnow received the Jack Thomason award and a scholarship from the Band Mothers Association. The John Phillip Sousa Award was presented to Ruthmarie Jana.

Band mothers as well as band members earned money for the band by sponsoring their annual Main Street Cake Walk.

Jeff Hoeg concentrates on hitting the right note during a band performance at one of the convos. The band celebrated their 44th anniversary at the Spring Contest.

Striving to achieve the band's full potential Mr. Matlock's face expresses his ambition for music perfection.

GAA Learns Value of Spirit, Sportsmanship

Ready to topple over at any minute, GAA members laugh as they form pyramids. Boys aren't the only ones interested in sports as members of the Girls Athletic Association proved. Under the direction of Miss Reisinger, the GAA participated in a number of sports and learned the value of team spirit and good sportsmanship.

During the fall, GAA clubbers were required to come to intramurals every Thursday in order to be eligible for induction.

Besides practicing volleyball and gymnastics, girls also did folk dances, played basketball, participated in track, and went roller skating, swimming, and bowling.

GAA sweatshirts were purchased by members for the cost of $3.25. The sweatshirts were navy blue with a white emblem.

At the annual GAA banquet held in the spring, the new officers for the year were inducted and awards were given to deserving girls.

Boosters Add Pom-Poms

Purple and gold pom-poms bobbed in time to Brickie cheers as booster club members lived up to their role for boosting school spirit. The pom-pom section was organized the first time this year by booster club president Linda Strode.

All homecoming activities were sponsored by the club and it used the money taken in for dues and dances to help buy uniforms for the varsity and reserve cheerleaders.

President Strode attended the Officers Leadership Conference at the Indiana University Student Leadership Institute the summer of 1968. There Linda learned the techniques necessary for a competent club leader to conduct orderly meetings.

Cheerleaders Plan Rallies, Stir Up Student Enthusiasm

"We are the Brickies . . . "

"Our boys will shine tonight . . ."
"Two bits, four bits . . ."

Keeping the school in high spirits through victory and defeat was its through victory and defeat was the major job of the cheerleaders. Both squads cheered students on at pep sessions as well as at home and away games.

Varsity cheerleaders were elected in the spring by the Booster Club on the basis of pep, coordination and agility. The reserve squad, which was enlarged by one number, wasn't selected until fall.

Selecting new uniforms provided the cheerleaders with a chance to carry out the school colors. The price of the uniforms was split between the Booster Club and members of the squads themselves.

Starting this year, members of the reserve cheerleader squad will be selected in the spring.

Varsity Cheerleaders for the 1968-69 year are: Linda Goffiney, Paula Freeville, Cindy Holley, Gayle Bolinger and Pam Rosenbaum. Members of the squad kept students in high spirits as they rollied them on at the various games.

No Brickie will forget the spirit that arose: before the big Andrean football game, when the grapplers and trackmen finished undefeated, after the Chesterton basketball victory following several straight losses. Giving their all to win yet realizing the value of good sportsmanship, HHS students were

Brickie Gridders Undefeated

Until Valpo, Andrean Games

Undefeated in their first eight games, the Brickies fell short in the final two contests. Valpo handed the gridmen their first defeat by a last minute touchdown, and the Brickies fell one point short at the hands of third ranked Andrean.

Coach Don Howell's gridders clinched their first five games straight until Gary Roosevelt tied the Brickies in the sixth game of the season.

On the seventh and eighth weeks of the season, the Brickies victimized Horace Mann and Merrillville by scores of 19-0 and 54-13, respectively.

A Valpo score in the last minute ended the Brickie dream for an undefeated season. With 51 seconds remaining in the contest, Valpo struck through the air on a six-yard toss to make the final score 19-14.

On the last game of the season third ranked Gary Andrean came to town. Before a standing-room-only crowd, a defensive battle took place at the end of which Andrean won 7-6.

Halfback Mike McLennan led the Brickies in rushing for the season with a five yard average in 119 carries. All-State candidate Ken Rippe led in the scoring column with nine touchdowns, seven of which came through the air and in receptions capturing 13. Tackle Barry Reed was also an All-State candidate.

Brickies leading ground gainer Mike McLennan skirts around end to pass an Andrean pursuer. Mike led the team in rushing with an average of five yards a carry.

All-state candidates Ken Rippe and Barry Reed stop an Andrean 59'er for a short gain while Frank Thompson (30), Charlie

Boston (14) and Paul Ames (73) are close in pursuit. The Brickies beat the 59 ers statistically but lost 7-6.

Kurth Completes 29th Year;

Ehrenfeld Only State Qualifier

"In all my coaching years I have never had a losing team!" expounded Coach Frank Kurth in his 29th year as head cross country coach.

The harriers maintained their winning record as they captured the co-championship of the new Western Alliance League.

The thinclads also accumulated 15 victories out of 17 dual meets. Their only defeats came at the hands of Hammond Clark and Chesterton.

Rich Ehrenfeld, Bob McOmber and Tim Roper, Hobart's top runners, paced the squad to third place in 22nd ISHAA sectionals.

The Bricks then went on to finish fourth in the regionals and qualify Senior Captain Rich Ehrenfeld for the state meet in Indianapolis.

Members of the 1968 Reserve Cross Country team are Front Row: M. Keith, M. Murray, M. MacPherson, R. Longacre, M. Fick, P. Kearby. Top Row: Mr. Hancock, P. Gojko, I. Zack, D. Knapp, D. Rose, T. Clavey, Mr. Kurth. There Ehrenfeld snagged 16th place out of approximately 100 of the state's top harriers.

Hobari's 28th annual invitational meet brought the Brickies a third place. They also finished second in the Andrean and Highland invitationals.

Coach Kurth's summer conditioning program, the 500 Mile Club, proved valuable as Hobart's top runners were members of the organization.

Ehrenfeld was top point winner by gathering up 200 points and his third major letter. Bob McOmber was second with 165 points and sophomore Tim Roper a close third with 160 markers.

Six returning lettermen will form the nucleus for next year's cross country squad.

Right-Returning the ball is a common practice of Senior letterman Ron Ludwig as he helped pace the netmen in double action.

Although the Brickie netmen managed to finish the season with only two victories out of eleven matches, they did, however, end on a promising note by defeating East Chicago Washington 3-2.

Coach Fay Trammel's racketmen posted their other 3-2 win over

River Forest.

Senior Captain Dave Dve paced the Bricks in individual victories with a record of 6-5. Dave, who has been a varsity starter for three years, was the only netman to finish with a winning record.

Following behind Dave were Dick Ballard and Tim Wall with 3-8 and 2.9 slates, respectively.

Doubles were led by partners Ron Ludwig and Charles Sufana with a mark of 2-9. Other doubles partners taking part in varsity action were the teams of Tom Puchowski-Bob Alonso and Charles Wells-

Coach Thomas gives John Scott a reasuring pat, after a successful match.

Hobart wrestlers completed their first undefeated season in dual meets by winning nine, losing none, and tying one. The only blemish came against Valparaiso when the Brickies were tied 21-21.

Coach Al Thomas's grapplers also won decisive victories in two tournaments. Hobart outlasted Gary Andrean, River Forest, and Hammond Morton for a victory in a quadrangular meet held at Hobart.

In the Hobart Invitational, featuring Hammond's Gavit and Clark, Calumet, LaPorte, Lafayette Jeff, Gary Roosevelt, and Munster, Hobart also won. Hobart placed third out of ten teams in the Western Alliance Meet behind only Hammond Gavit, first and Hammond Morton, second.

Dave Galler faces the final period with a look of sheer exhaustion.

The junior varsity also completed a very successful season by winning nine meets and losing one. The defeat came at the hands of Hammond High by a score of 32-31. Coach Gary Burkhart finished out his last season as reserve coach and is moving on to head a coaching job at Chesterton.

Hobart grapplers ventured to Gary Wirt on February 8 to participate in the IHSAA sectionals. The Brickies finished fourth in the field of 14.

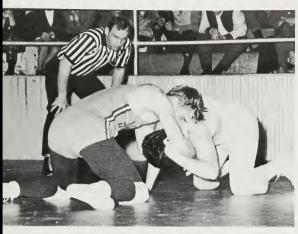

Three grapplers made the finals. Ron Longacre and Frank Thompson both lost by close decisions. Sophomore Dave Galler was Hobart's only champ.

An overall record of 16 wins and 4 losses was compiled by HHS linksmen in dual and tri-matches in 1969. This record includes 5 conference victories and 2 losses.

In tournament competition, Brickie golfers captured a 5th place rank at Rensselear, 15th at La-Porte, and 18th at Lake Central.

Senior Captain Tom Busch led the golf squad with a 39.5 average on the 9 hole course. Seniors Dave Kolczak and George Murray held second and third places with averages of 41.4 and 46.2, respectively.

Busch also paced the squad by capturing medalist honors 15 times. Dave Kolczak grabbed medalist honors three times and Mark Wineinger and George Murray were medalists once each.

Paced by junior Don Rosenbaum, with a batting average of .327, and Tom Edwards with an earned run average of 1.05, the Brickies finished the season with a record of 6-12-1.

The Brickies first win came with the second game of the season when they defeated Emerson 9-4. Other victories came against Calumet, Portage, East Chicago Roosevelt, Merrillville and Boone Grove.

The Brickies' only tie came after a 16 inning marathon against Hammond Tech in which both teams scored six runs. Two of Hobart's runs came with homeruns hit by Barry Reed. Reed ended the season with three homeruns his other one coming in the first game of the sectional against Boone Grove. Hobart beat Boone Grove 5-3 after a homerun blast by Don Rosenbaum in the bottom of the eighth.

Brickie Trackmen Finish Undefeated With 6-0 Record

Brickie cindermen, paced by Pete Gojko's five new pole vault records and Rich Ehrenfeld's mile record, compiled a record of 6-0 in dual meets.

The Bricks also took the Hobart Little Five Meet for the 26th time in its 29th year. They snagged a first at the Hammond Clark Relays and second in the Valparaiso and Hammond High Relays.

At Hobart's Little Five, junior Gojko vaulted to 12'77" bettering the old record of 12'41/2". He also set the New Western Alliance Record at 12'6", LaPorte Invitational record at 13'10", Valpo Relay record at 12'6" and went on to set a new regional record at 13'6".

Senior Stalwart Rich Ehrenfeld set a new mile record of 4:22 breaking the old Hobart record of 4:25. Another record was set in the two mile relay of 8:21.3. Placing sixth in sectionals at Gary Gilroy, Brickie cindermen went on to qualify four for regionals and two for state.

At sectionals Rich Ehrenfeld bagged a blue ribbon in the mile while Bob McOmber received a third. Over in the field Jim Collins took a third in the high jump and Gojko third in the pole vault.

At regionals Gojko stole first place beating River Forest rival John Thomas with his record breaking vault, while Ehrenfeld took third in the mile.

The reserves also managed a good year finishing the season undefeated with seven wins and no losses Forming the nucleus for next year's track squad will be returning lettermen Chuck King, Tim Roper, Rex Holt, Jim Lierman, Dexter Knapp, Bill Rich, and Pete Goiko.

Leading hurdler Mike Kaczmarek stretches long to clear a low hurdle at a Hobart meet at Brickie Bowl.

Howell Directs Intramurals; Robbers Win Basketball Title

Under the direction of Head Football Coach Don Howell, over 90 boys participated in intramural activities Saturday mornings, from 9:00 to 12:00 in the high school gym.

Eight basketball and volleyball teams were formed and competed against each other every Saturday for 10 weeks. Closing the basketball competition, Dean Robb's Robbers faced Al Main's Marauders in the final tilt for the basketball crown.

Both teams were previously undefeated; however the Robbers proved to be too strong and they dealt the Marauders their first loss, 61-35. Bill Schmelter led the scoring with 17 points, followed by Robb with 10. Captain Al Main led the Marauder effort, also with 10.

The Robbers finished the season with an unblemished record of 7-0. The Marauders closed at 6-1.

In addition to basketball and volleyball games, Coach Howell supervised the boys in several other areas.

Whether he was striving for a starting position on the football squad or just looking for something to do on a dull, Saturday morning, each boy got a good work-out at intramural sessions.

Having dropped the girls' basketball team, this year's girls competition consisted of track, gymnastics and volleyball. Hobart also had three girls earn places in state

At the district track meet at Munster Hobart tied for third and qualified Rose Schwuchow, Sue Parent and Jeanne Shaddick; who set the district running high jump record at 48". Sue Parent was the only trackster to place in state competition finishing fifth in the 75 yard dash.

In gymnastics Jackie Karner received sixth in trampoline while Paula Freville snagged a third in advanced trampoline and sixth in advanced tumbling at the state meet at Ball State University.

Though not placing in state, Bev Bolinger, Audrey Cooper and Nancy Wright entered state competition.

The volleyball team had an undefeated season winning two tournaments at East Gary and Merrillville.

ROTC Institutes Three New Cadet Awards

Three new awards were instituted this year in Reserve Officer Training Corps. The outstanding cadet award, the outstanding academic cadet award and the outstanding ROTC cadet award were bestowed during the Honor Convocation.

Dave Sutherland received his rank as cadet lieutenant colonel, the highest rank so far attained by a member of the corps, at halftime of the Chesterton basketball game in February. The ROTC performed drill exhibitions for the occasion.

Joan Halvorson was crowned queen of the Military Ball by Lt. Col. Henderson. The queen was escorted to the "Military Dreams" by Mark Conrad.

Discipline, marksmanship, American military history, map reading and first aid were some of the things corps members learned in class. Courtesy and appearance played a major part in the grades of the boys. An ROTC member was expected to abide by rules of good behavior and appearance at all times.

Asian-African history teacher Mr. Scarborough looks on as Junior Sherry Hahn points out the Nile River to her fellow classmates.

Pupils Study the Mystery of History

Gazing back into the mysterious past of history, exploring the various parts of the world, and learning about the controversies between democracy and communism were just a few of the experiences gained in social studies.

Government students in Mr. Trammel's and Mr. Kristoff's classes put up bulletin boards to keep students up to date on current events.

Mr. Blink's physical geography classes conducted scientific experiments to examine the properties of certain substances.

Movies, guest speakers, and projects added to the fulfillment.

After giving her special report on Karl Marx in government class, Senior Sharon Coulter smiles as she answers a question pertaining to her talk.

Senior Debbie Bridegroom points out the township line on the Hobart City Map to Ann Dravet, as they try to plot the location of the high school.

Left—Psychology teacher Mr. Leathem, with the help of Randy Sutton and Ernie Santucci, conducts an experiment to make a mouse ring the bell.

Below—Conducting an experiment in physical geography class, Brad Hall and Henry Wiljong release their helium-filled balloons into the air.

Above—Working on her office practice project, Senior Janet Smith types a letter from dictation as she listens on the Stenorette.

Right—Senior Rebecca Eastwood totals up her column on the adding machine as she hurries to meet the deadline on her office practice project.

Five Rooms Added for Business

Five of the eight classrooms built in the new extension have been claimed by the business department. The new classrooms include a shorthand laboratory, a business lab and three typing rooms. With the adding of these new classrooms the administration hopes to build students interest in business courses.

One of the three typing rooms contains, exclusively electric typewriters, a Hobart first. Both the business and shorthand laboratories are equipped with the most modern equipment available, including posture chairs.

Guest speakers, bulletin between committees, competition between typing classes, and speeches written in notehand were some of the means used to spark the students' incentive to learn. The business law class also visited the Hobart city court.

Senior Gayle Bolinger tacks up the finishing touches on her bulletin board display in Mrs. Pflughoeft's beginning typing class.

Somewhat puzzled, Senior Janice Alexander receives an explanation on the operation of the educator from Miss Todd in office practice class.

Senior John Zach cracks a smile as he hurries to erase the mistake he made while typing a business letter in first year typing class.

Pete Bellows (foe Conn) warns Dobie Gillis (John Wilson) not to bother his girlfriend Helen Dixon in the fall play "The Many Loves of Dobie Gills" put on by Mr. Ralph's dramatics classes in October.

Grammarians, Critics Keep on Their Toes

Dangling modifiers, complex sentences, Skakespeare, essays, novels and term papers kept grammarians and critics on their toes in English classes.

While Seniors studied the depths of English literature such as "Macbeth," and "The Canterbury Tales," juniors and sophomores were learning more about their heritage in literature by studying "Our Town," and "Julius Caesar."

Students in first year journalism classes learned newspaper and yearbook techniques and made four-page dummy spreads in addition to writing their best stories.

Future actors and actresses in dramatics classes presented "The Many Loves of Dobie Gillis" and "The Marriage Machine" to the public.

Hurrying to meet that last minute deadline, newspaper and yearbook staffers used their journalistic skills to keep student publications on the move.

Librarian Mrs. Mary Bailey watches as Senior Karen Zelenka checks out a book for her book report in English class.

Acting out his charade, sophomore Richard Barriger crawls on the floor as he attempts to communicate without using words to express himself.

Left—Students in Mr. Howard's beginning journalism class discuss newspaper techniques as they share information about writing their newsaper articles.

Reading, Writing, Speaking Constitute Language Study

Reading, writing and speaking constituted the three main concepts of the languages taught at HHS. Students had a choice of four languages in which to pursue their study—French, German, Latin and Spanish.

Latin "pueri" and "puellae" studied mythology in addition to their regular vocabulary and translations. Projects pertaining to some aspect of Roman culture were required of all Latin students.

Spanish "seniors" and "senoritas," equipped with earphones and microphones, listened to exercises and then answered questions.

German "Studenten" studied the history of Germany as well as their regular stories. In order to gain further information about the people of Germany, students gave speeches on famous composers, authors, scientists and statesmen.

Tapes, overhead projectors and movies enabled French "mademoiselles" and "monsieurs" to learn.

Puzzled by the question, sophomore Rex Holt ponders over the answer while Robert Sliger answers the question in French.

Above—Junior Beth Ruwaldt laughs as Paula Freeville points out the city mentioned in the story on the map.

Left—Sophomore Dave Dumitru underlines the form of the verb he used when writing his sentence for a Spanish assignment.

Mathematicians Struggle to Retain Formulas

Mr. Robb looks on while junior Glenda Shire scratches her head in an attempt to figure out her geometry problem.

Confusion and panic struck as students tried to separate and retain jumbled formulas, complex equations, theorems, postulates, logarithms and graphs.

"The square of the hypotenuse is equal to the square of the other two sides" was just one of the basic theorems learned by beginning geometry students.

While algebra students learned the basic fundamentals of algebra 1, trigonometry, Senior math and geometry scholars developed more advanced concepts of mathematics.

Interested students were able to participate in math contests in order to test their mathematical skills and win important honors for themselves and the school.

Junior Paul McKenzie exercised his mathematical skills as he puts an advanced algebra problem on the board in Mrs. Sark's class.

Sophomore Karl Luken smiles as he tries to prove to his fellow geometry students that the area of a trapezoid is equal to the base times the height.

With a yardstick in his hand, sophomore Dave Bundalo shows how he plotted the point of intersection on the graph on the board.

Scientists Go Cave-exploring at Springville

Testing the results of their experiment, Senior Jerry Talian and Junior Jay Collins examine a few drops from their finished product.

On two occasions science students went cave-exploring at Springville, Indiana. Mr. Pflughoeft and Mr. Blink accompanied 90 students through Sullivan's cave.

Mr. Pflughoeft, first-year biology teacher, took his classes on insect hunts and preserved and mounted their quarry for one of the school display windows.

Chick development, regeneration of planarians, response ability in mice, and models of atomic particles are just some examples of the range of projects Mrs. Reed's second year biology classes worked on during the second semester.

John Aughey and Dick Ballard received the department's science award from Mr. Hamman, chemistry teacher, for their independent research in advanced chemistry.

Sophomore Dick Collins studies the features of a horse's head while Ed Pavelka, Peggy Lough, and Byron Russell read up on their biology assignment.

Left—Sophomore Mike Keith smiles as he identifies the parts of the earthworm he has just dissected and pinned down in biology class.

Below—While conducting an experiment, junior Laura Doucette pours acid from a flask into a distilling tube which is held by Connie Colburn.

Sophomore Verna Anderson carefully executes a somersault in Miss Reisinger's third hour physical education class. During the session in free exercising, many new and old tumbling tricks were learned and reviewed.

While Senior Steve Witherspoon keeps his eye on traffic situations, behind-the-wheel driver education instructor Mr. Rose coaches him on other safety precautions. In addition to the driving, students were required to take classroom instruction.

Student Drivers Demonstrate Behind-the-Wheel Prowess

"Don't hit that car!"

"One more lap to go!"

"Drinking and driving don't mix!"

Driver's education, physical education, and alcohol education completed the health department's lineup of available subjects.

Students in driver's education classes learned the basic laws of driving and were allowed to put their skills into practice when taking behind-the-wheel training.

Students in alcohol education classes learned the basic facts about smoking and drinking, and were required to keep notebooks.

Physical fitness played an important part in gym classes, as girls and boys alike struggled through the running programs.

Girls had a session in dancing, while boys practiced weight-lifting and advanced exercises.

Whenever the weather permitted, students flocked outside to participate in events such as tennis, basehall and soccer.

Above—Swinging high, swinging low, sophomore Debbie LaHaie practices on the parallel bars while Ellen Pope and Pam Brown act as spotters.

Right—Senior Anne Marie Flood meticulously adds the final strokes to the facial features of her portrait in the oil painting class.

Below—Dabbing in the finishing touches to the new mascot's hand, sophomore Gaye Wroblewski works carefully on the 1969 Yohan.

Home Economists Make Skirts and Jackets

Stitching away, Senior Carol Hughes sews up the back seams of her dress as she strives to finish her advanced homemaking project.

An annual project which Mrs, Beveridge, home ec teacher, termed "exceptionally well-done" this year was the making of skirt and jacket outfits by the Senior girls. Girls also experimented with jelly, pies, and cakes in the cooking classes.

Mrs. Cicak's art room was inhabited part of the year by handmade marionettes created by her art students. Added to the art section this year was a one-semester class in oil painting. The art class also participated in a fashion designing contest sponsored by Gordon's Clothing Store. The winning design from Hobart appeared in a Gordon newspaper advertisement.

Under Mr. Ralph's direction, A Capella and the mixed chorus entertained at school functions, took part in the talent show, and sang Christmas carols in the grade schools. An extra-curricular group for advanced music students, the Madrigals, performed for various organizations.

Hurrying to finish her home economics project, sophomore Rita Spain checks the time before she puts her loaf of bread into the oven.

Shop Boys Clean-Up, Fix-Up, Build

Printing dance tickets, keeping motors purring, building book-shelves and fixing greasy valves provided many mechanically-minded young men with important skills.

Keeping the school supplied with tickets, passes, tags, sports schedules, the Ho-Hi Life and the Kiln were just a few of the duties of the print shop.

Boys in woodshop constructed bookshelves for the school and were required to make projects.

Drafting classes helped boys develop blueprinting and engineering skills, while "grease-monkeys" in power mechanics classes learned about trouble-shooting engines.

Classes were integrated this year with girls taking mechanical drawing and crafts.

Mr. Rusnak demonstrates the procedures for operating a valve grinding machine to Senior Walter Head in power mechanics class.

Senior Tom Rushing carefully puts together the walls on the house he and co-worker Harry Porter are constructing for their woodshop project.

Working from underneath the car, Senior Mike Krull puts his mechanics skills to work as he repairs the faulty mechanisms of the auto mechanics car.

Above—Harry Beals watches as Mr. Walter Moss from Express Auto demonstrates the procedures for applying vinyl paint to the roof of a car.

School Expansion Alleviates

Right—Governing the school system is the School Board of Trustees; Mrs. Ruth Briggs, Mr. Harry Garmong, Mr. Donald Frankenhauser. Row 2: Mr. Charles Bigler, Mr. Kenneth Norris, Mr. Richard Black, Mr. Donald Sporre.

Business Assistant to the superintendent, Mr. Charles Bigler is in charge of handling school finances and keeping the school system within the year's budget.

Overcrowded Halls, Staircases, Classrooms

Superintendent of Hobart City Schools Kenneth Norris supervises the students and faculty and carries out the policies set by the school board.

As Director of Pupil Personnel, Mr. Eugene Wise checks on student welfare and investigates the absence of pupils from school.

Overcrowding in the high school was solved by a new three-story addition built this year. Crowded halls and staircases had hindered students trying to reach classes on time. Some courses were dropped due to lack of classroom space.

The administration raised funds for the project through issuing bonds to the public and through the city's Cumulative Building Fund. This fund is an accumulation of yearly taxes levied by the city for public building projects.

The first floor contains three typing rooms, a business lab, shorthand lab, two drafting rooms and an arts and crafts room. The second floor houses a student lounge and the third story is separated into a cafeteria for the students and a private dining room for teachers. More than $150,000 has been spent on equipment for the addition.

A fresh coat of blue paint was given the interior of the original school during the summer of 1968. Other improvements in the school included the sanding and refinishing of 200 student desks.

Bookkeeper Mrs. Ruth Rohrboch, and secretary Mrs. Patricia Schoon work with secretaries Mrs. Barbara Cross, Mrs. Thelma Walsh and Mrs. Charlene Frankenberg to keep the administration office functioning without difficulties.

Achievement tests, schedules and listening to student problems are only a small part of the jobs of the HHS guidance staff;

Mrs. Rosalind Howell, Mr. Wayne Collins, Mr. Marion Bailey. Mr. Bill Cope and Mrs. Luella Glenn, secretary.

Planning menus and cooking meals heads the list of daily responsibilities of the Hobart High cafeteria staff; Mrs. Millie Dunkelbarger, Mrs. Nina Sbellman, Mrs. Sally Jenks and Mrs. Mary Smith.

Maintaining the appearance of the high school and its grounds is the daily job of custodians; Mr. Tom Horst, Mr. Charles Snow, Mr. Walter Kaiser, Mrs. Darlene Cowsert, Mr. William Kneifel, Mrs. Melba Korey.

School Staffs Worked Around the Clock for Student Body

Mops and pails clattered and broke the silence of an empty hallway as a member of the maintenance staff waxed the floor after school.

Working in shifts, the maintenance staff, under the direction of Mr. William Kneifel, kept classrooms and halls spic and span. The school grounds were also under the care of Mr. Kneifel's crew.

Meals were planned and served by four ladies working in the cafeteria under Mrs. Millie Dunklebarber. The cafeteria budget and management was completely under the control of the kitchen staff.

The guidance counselors, supervised by the guidance director, Mr. Marion Bailey, filled a busy year with research projects and advice for students planning vocational and business careers. College-bound students were given special attention. The four counselors were assisted by Mrs. Luella Glenn, secretary.

Miss Helen Hopp, dean of girls, and Mr. James Johnston, dean of boys, attended to hall supervision, discipline and class attendance as a regular part of their duties. The dean of girls is customarily the sponsor of the Debuteens and the dean of boys the sponsor of the H-Men.

Mrs. Francis Sillery, main office bookkeeper, marked her tenth year at Hobart Senior High. Taking care of schedules, appointments, correspondence, class ranking, and acting as receptionists were Mr. Norman Lewis and Mrs. Ruth Rogers.

Left—Bookkeeper Mrs. Francis Sillery handles the high school financial books and expenditures while secretaries Mrs. Norma Lewis and Mrs. Ruth Rogers help to keep the office running smoothly.

Completing Teaching Staff of 63 Members

After listening to the cheers of the three classes, the judges, Mrs. Pflughoeft, Sergeant Harrington, Mr. Bailey and Mr. Collins, find that deciding which class is able to vell the loudest is a difficult job.

Eleven new teachers took their place on the Hobart faculty, making the staff of 63 complete.

Mr. Paul Leathem taught psychology, Mr. E. J. Horvath, biology, Mrs. Gail McCov, English, Mrs. Betty Stowell, history, and Mr. Tom Wuchner, French and German, Mr. Steve Rusnak taught auto-mechanics and drafting and Mr. Dale Marcus taught arts and crafts.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Howard were among the new-comers on the staff this year. Mr. Howard taught journalism and Mrs. Howard taught speech. Joining his wife who also teaches on the Hobart faculty was biology teacher Mr. Mark Pflughoeft.

Heading the band and music department this year was Mr. Roger McConnell, a former assistant band director at Ball State.

While Still

Teachers—they are strict, unbending, uncompromising. They are warm, understanding, helpful. They are demanding, yet they give much more than they demand. They are aloof from the world of the jet age youth, but they are also very much a part of that world.

Teachers are our guides in an intricate maze of knowledge that becomes more difficult to course every day. They are our bridges between ignorance and knowledge, between foolishiness and wisdom, between darkness and light. But they are more than bridges, they are people.

They come and they go through our school as they pursue careers and advancements. Many are restless, as we understand, some are still students, others are ready to retire from the teaching life.

Mr. James Kristoff, a teacher at Hobart for five years, has left the staff to finish his doctorate at the Northern Arizona University at Flagstaff, Arizona. After attending the university for two years full time, he will have completed his doctorate in administration and supervision.

Mr. Ralph, director of the A Capella and the Madrigals, moved to Los Angeles, California. Mr. Roger McConnell, band director, has accepted a similar position at Western Kentucky.

After twenty-two years of high school teaching, Mr. Richard Hamman retired this year. His retirement plans include many camping trips.

Students, Some Teachers Pursue Careers

Mr. Glen Robb—AB, MS . . . Oakland City College, Indiana University, geometry, Sophomore Class.

Mr. William Rose—BS . . . Oakland City College, driver education.

Mr. Steve Rusnak—AD, BS . . . Tri-State College, Indiana State University, auto mechanics, applied math, mechanical drawing.

Mrs. Anita Sark—BA, MS . . . Indiana State University, algebra, geometry, Debuteens, Junior Class.

Mrs. Edith Wise—BS... Ball State University, Indiana University, general business, business law, Sophomore Class. Mr. Thomas Wuchner—BA... Indiana State University, French, German, French Club, German Club.

Crimson and Gray Serve as Class Colors

Crimson and gray represented the "Class of 69." Students wore their sweatshirts and took part in activities throughout the year to display their colors.

"Try, Trust, Triumph" served as the class motto for the 391 Seniors that graduated May 21. The class flower was the pink carnation.

Dressing in masquerade costumes, Seniors attended the class party, "69 Time," January 13. Ken Rippe and Janice Roper reigned as king and queen.

"Sink the Vikings," the class float, was awarded second place during Football Homecoming activities.

At a pep session, the class won a cheering contest. They enjoyed a week of Senior privileges, Government Day and Education Day during their last year at Hobart High.

Students at HHS often expressed their restlessness in various places around town. Whether it was: running around B&K, groovin' out at a tennis court dance, spending a quiet day at the library, or, blowing a pay check shopping downtown; students found their part in community life.

They were restless in . . .

Advertising

Memories Tries for More Appealing Layout

Advertising is a means to place a product or service in the eye of the consumer. Advertising is also competition between businessmen.

In displaying his business in newspapers, on billboards and in sponsoring organizations' projects such as Memories, the smart merchant can attract customers and increase sales. In this view, the businesses are inclined to compete against each other in quality and price.

Competition brings forth better products and services at a cost consumers will readily pay.

Things were not only restless this year, but rough. Memories experienced changes and improvements, but deadline was missed and late delivery occurred. Although there were problems, eventually things worked out thanks to many dedicated people. Special recognition is deserved by Mr. Dick Kennard, yearbook consultant—Newsfoto Publishing Company: Peggy Lough, John Wilson and Principal Harold Moody.
